

Lā Ho'ihō'i I Ka Piko – return to source

La ho'ihō'i i ka piko is a day dedicated to the metaphoric gesture of returning to ancestral lands and reflect on those of the past through sharing of stories and gathering of family. As a new generation arises, another departs, the practice of returning to source to share stories plays a vital role in passing on traditional and customary values and practices. We welcome families of Honaunau, Keokea, and Ki'ilae, South Kona to come and participate in a two(2) day fun event to celebrate family connections and ties to lands of Honaunau, Keokea, and Ki'ilae, South Kona. This event is a collaboration between Pu'uhonua o Honaunau, University of Hawaii – Hilo, School of Anthropology, and the West Hawaii Office of Hawaiian Affairs.

Who: Descendants of Honaunau, Keokea, and Ki'ilae ahupua'a

When:

Day 1: Ho'olauna – Music, Video, Heavy pupus, and talk story

April 1, 2016 – 5:30pm to 7:30pm

Day 2: Ohana Day – Sharing of the past and opinion of the present day, lunch provided

April 2, 2016 – 9:30am to 2:00pm

Where: Pu'uhonua o Honaunau National Historic Park

*Admission is free

For information on this event, please contact the West Hawaii OHA office:

Shane Palacat-Nelsen or Dawn Tanimoto | Phone: (808) 327-9525