

Hānau Ka Ua

Journey with us across the archipelago to explore the rains and winds of the 'āina through hula, mele, and mo'olelo with authors Collette Leimomi Akana and Kiele Gonzalez. Their recent publication, Hānau ka Ua, is the fullest record of Hawaiian rain names and lore to date, drawing on oral tradition and literature, including approximately three hundred 'ōlelo Hawai'i primary sources from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries containing chants, songs, laments, and narratives.

About the presenters: Collette Leimomi Akana is kumu hula of Hālau Hula o Nā Momi Makamae and a kumu kula in social studies at Kamehameha Schools–Kapālama. Her daughter-collaborator, Kiele Gonzalez, is a Hawaiian-language publishing specialist at Kamehameha Publishing.

Hele mai and be inspired as Leimomi and Kiele share their 'ike on one of Hawai'i's many treasures.

Who: Collette Leimomi Akana and Kiele Gonzales

What: Hānau Ka Ua Presentation

When: May 7, 2016
9am – 12pm

Where: Nā Lama Kukui,
560 N. Nimitz Hwy., Ste. 200,
Honolulu

OHA's "I Mana Ka Lāhui" workshops invite Hawaiian scholars and cultural practitioners to share their mana'o with the larger Hawaiian community. These workshops are offered throughout the year, on all islands, via OHA's Community Engagement Division.

For information on this event, please contact OHA's Community Outreach Coordinator:
Kaimo Muhlestein | Phone: (808) 594-0232 | Email: kaimomx@oha.org