ABOUT THE DATA

Source: American Community Survey (ACS) is an ongoing statistical survey conducted by the US Census Bureau. It regularly gathers information previously contained only in the long form of the decennial census, thus filling a vital data gap.

Note: Family: A family consists of a householder and one or more other persons living in the same household who are related to the householder by birth, marriage, or adoption. All persons in a household who are related to the householder are regarded as members of his or her family. A household can contain only one family for purposes of census tabulations. Not all households contain families since a household may comprise a group of unrelated persons or one person living alone.

ABOUT THE DATA

Source: American Community Survey (ACS) is an ongoing statistical survey conducted by the US Census Bureau. It regularly gathers information previously contained only in the long form of the decennial census, thus filling a vital data gap.

Note: Family Income: In compiling statistics on family income, the incomes of all members 15 years old and over in each family are summed and treated as a single amount.

Household Income: Includes the income of the householder and all other persons 15 years old and over in the household, whether related to the householder or not. Because many households consist of only one person, average household income is usually less than average family income.

Per Capita Income: Per capita income is the mean income computed for every man, women, and child in a particular group.
